#TSCA20
Welcome from the TSCA President

#TSCA20 ATTNDEES,

Welcome to the 15th Annual Professional School Counselor Conference and three days of innovative learning and networking!

The Texas School Counselor Association (TSCA) Board of Directors is proud to once again co-host this conference. I encourage you to visit the TSCA booth in the Exhibit Hall to learn more about TSCA's work, advocacy, and the resources we offer just for you!

Our conference theme, Building Capacity, Building Community, reflects that professional school counselors always strive to build our capacity to serve our students and families with the foundation of a strong professional identity that unites us as a professional community. Each keynote speaker, Learning Institute, and program was selected to support you in Building YOUR Capacity and Building YOUR Community.

We are excited to offer a new feature this year – the Texas Education Agency's Plenary Session on Monday afternoon. This is a great opportunity to meet the people and learn about the programs across TEA that impact your work as Professional School Counselors. Be sure to attend and then enjoy free refreshments during the Networking Reception right next door in the Exhibit Hall.

For those brand new school counselors, several of the more than 100 programs will help you jump start your comprehensive school counseling program. And for administrators, we've identified programs specially designed to build your understanding of comprehensive school counseling programs and the resources school counselors bring to your campus.

Implementation strategies for the state-mandated Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs are offered throughout the conference, along with in-depth training and best practices on each of its four components. Sneak preview the updated and soon to be released Texas Evaluation Model for Professional School Counselors designed to align with the Texas Model and the new evaluation protocols endorsed by TEA. The array of options is immense – and the meeting space designed to accommodate many!

More than 70 campuses are being recognized with the prestigious CREST (Counselors Reinforcing Excellence for Students in Texas) Award for their effective implementation of model comprehensive school counseling programs. Attend the CREST program on Monday afternoon to learn how YOUR campus can be recognized next year!

Remember to visit our exhibitors – all of whom have been vetted with your unique needs as a professional school counselor in mind. They are here to support you!

Thank you for all you do to support your students and promote the school counseling profession.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Ridgely, TSCA President

WELCOME TO THE 15TH ANNUAL PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL COUNSELOR CONFERENCE!

Here are some tips so you can make the most of your conference experience!

1. Enjoy San Antonio! Stroll down the Riverwalk, sip a beverage on the terrace of one of the local restaurants, visit the Alamo, and take in the local culture.

2. Volunteer to facilitate programs. Be a part of the conference! You can facilitate programs and earn your CE hours at the same time! Not to mention you earn points in the app game!

3. Connect with other counselors while at the conference. This networking will provide you with a wealth of information and friendships that will enrich your counseling and your life!

4. Visit with our exhibitors. This is a rare opportunity for you to have “hands-on” time with materials before you purchase them to be sure they fit your program.

5. Meet your TSCA officers and board members. These members are dedicated to serving you, the Texas School Counselor Association, and all professional school counselors in Texas. You can earn points in the app too! Just ask them for their game code.

6. Plan some “me” time. There will be wellness activities during the conference, as well as sessions on counselor self-care. Keep your cup full so that you can keep pouring out for the people you serve.

7. Bring your administrator. If not this time, then next time! Administrators attend for free, and they will leave with a fresh understanding and appreciation of what you do.

8. Organize! Plan the programs you want to attend in advance - the conference app is a great tool for this! Have a back-up for each in case programs are full.

9. When you get home, go over your materials immediately and begin using all of the information you gained right away. For handouts, check the app and TCA website (www.txca.org/handouts).

UPDATES AND CHANGES

Program and event changes and cancellations will be announced at each General Session and posted in the conference app.

DOWNLOAD THE APP

Easily access programs, build your own schedule, and get updates with the PSCC20 app. Easily download the app at www.txca.org/psscapp or by searching “TCA Events” in your app store. Compatible with iOS and Android devices.

NAME BADGES & CE HOURS

All badges must be visible to security and conference personnel for admission to all conference programs, ticketed events, and the exhibit hall. Your name badge will also include a QR code used to scan into programs for CE hours. For your safety, no one will be allowed to enter without a badge. If you purchased a single day registration, you will only receive CE hours for that day.

Attendance will be tracked through your conference name badge (QR code). You must scan into each session within 15 minutes of the program start time and remain through the entirety of the program to receive full credit for the session. Partial credit will not be granted. After the conference, an email with a CE certificate for the programs you attended will be sent to the email on file with TCA.

All Learning Institutes and conference programs are eligible to receive LPC, LMFT, LCDC, NBCC, SBEC, Social Worker and Psychologist/LSSP continuing education hours. Ethics are offered on specific programs marked as “Ethics.” Supervision hours are offered on specific programs marked as “Counselor Supervision.”

PHOTOGRAPHY

Registration and participation in the conference, sessions, meetings, or other conference related activities constitutes an agreement by you for TCA to use and distribute (both now and in the future) your image or voice in photographs, video, electronic reproductions, and audio of such events and activities.

Gotta Get Those Handouts!

We know handouts are important to you! That is why TCA asks each presenter to provide electronic program resources in advance of the conference. Handouts that were provided to TCA by presenters before the conference are available online at www.txca.org/handouts. Resources received after that date will be posted after the conference.

Speakers also have the option to upload their handouts to the app themselves. Handouts uploaded to the app will be located under the program page.
Movies and Music and Play, Oh My!
Room: 302B
Topic: Play Therapy
Presenter(s): Lisa Remey

Ever notice the power of music and movie themes and wondered how to incorporate them into your play therapy sessions? This training is designed for counselors to discover how to bridge metaphors and symbols found in movies and songs into the play therapy process. The presenter will discuss how different theatrical frameworks can be utilized to process movies and music in addition to describing specific directive play therapy interventions. Common themes found in play therapy sessions will be explored such as loss, anger, rejection, self-concept, goal attainment and courage. Participants will explore how the foundations of cinema therapy and music therapy help clients discover their strength, gain new perspective and promote social-emotional intelligence that in turn builds connection, communication, self-awareness and increased understanding.

Divorced Families: Teaching Ways to Collaborate with Parents on Coping Mechanisms
Room: 302C
Topic: Child & Adolescent Counseling
Presenter(s): Raquel Diaz Rivas

When the parents are asked to analyze take-home messages such as what to do when the child gets upset at home or refuses to come to school, it is important to guide them toward careful consideration of body-language, tone of voice, word choice, and constructive response to resolving the issue. To achieve these goals, I use documents from ‘The Center for Divorce Education’ in Hidalgo County along with positive psychology to ensure a strong foundation for school counselors to use. I will discuss how to build communication with the parents, a road map for the teacher, and a guideline for the counselor. I address concerns behind the importance of being prepared for behavioral outbursts in the premature stages of the transition, and I share instructional strategies that challenge the parent to walk alongside the child during the transition.

Playing Around-Designing Counseling Games for Children and Youth
Room: 303C
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): Betty White

School counselors are challenged by limited budgets, limited time, and a need to draw children in with activities that are interesting, engaging, and help students retain needed skills. Games provide a natural form of social interaction, help teach social skills, are entertaining, and are a natural fit for everything from whole class groups to small groups and individuals. Commercially designed counseling games can be prohibitively expensive and may not fit the exact needs of your setting. Join us as we transform everyday materials and commercial games into tools that fit your needs as a counselor. Participants will leave with at least 4 ready to use games, and will have the opportunity to tailor a game to the needs of their own clientele.

1. Building Healthy Relationships and Supportive Learning Communities Workshop with the Sanford Harmony CASEL SElect Program

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 223
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Sasha Breeden

Sanford Harmony is a CASEL-SESelect program that builds healthy relationships and supportive learning communities where all students are valued. Join our hands-on workshop and learn social-emotional learning strategies to enhance connection, collaboration and communication in your learning environment tomorrow! We'll share lessons, stories, and activities that foster respect and empathy. Enhance family engagement through Home School Connections. You'll love Harmony as activities are flexible and easy to implement. Discover how Dallas ISD and the Sanford Harmony SEL Program have joined together to create conditions to empower children's voices and choices, and develop healthy relationships at NO COST to districts and organizations.

2. How Smart are Your SMART Goals?

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 224
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): Lesley Casarez, Michael O'Briant, Rachel Gandar, Tamra Kelly

This program will identify and analyze the foundational components of a comprehensive school guidance program as outlined in the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs, 5th Ed. Every comprehensive school counseling program (CSCP) has to start with a strong foundation. In order to build the foundation, specific target areas must be established to direct the time and efforts of the school counselor. Participants will then use this information to begin creating a comprehensive program by formulating data-driven SMART goals, which will serve as the foundation for the program. Discussion will occur on how to present the information to a school leadership team, relating these goals to school counselor duties/roles as outlined in the Texas Education Code. This presentation will also be beneficial for school counselors who are interested in applying for a CREST award through the Texas School Counselor Association, as SMART goals are one of the areas within the new scoring rubric, and an area that many educators struggle to write effectively.

3. Ethical Considerations When Working with Immigrant Students

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 225C
Topic: Multicultural & Social Justice
Presenter(s): Valerie Martinez, Angela Taylor-Blackshear

This presentation provides a framework to help professional school counselors create a comprehensive program to assist immigrant students in the school educational setting. The presentation starts with a participant activity the presenters have used with faculty and students. Then, the words of students will be shared as a means to provide insight into an often hidden student population. Next, an overview provides statistics and relevant information.
4. 5 Good Ideas about Counseling Students from Underserved Populations: A Conversation about Access & Equity in Counseling

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 225D
Topic: Multicultural & Social Justice
Presenter(s): Ruby Bible

Students from underserved and at-risk populations experience unique challenges that impact every aspect of their lives and have negative effects on their school success. Historical, social, and institutional discrimination creates obstacles that many peers may never face. While multicultural counseling classes, books, and professional development have enlightened us and given us the ability to work with diverse students and parents, rarely do school counselors engage in meaningful conversation regarding these unique challenges, how they impact a student’s worldview and the equity to and access of resources within their communities. Dive into a candid conversation about equity, access, and advocacy for underserved and at-risk students and leave with 5 Good Ideas that increase support and advocacy for culturally diverse, underserved and at-risk students.

5. A Trauma Informed Approach for Educators: Why It Matters

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 214A
Topic: Trauma & Grief
Presenter(s): Kemberly Edwards

Trauma Informed Care has become the gold standard across the nation in response to students presenting with concerns that are related to trauma at school. Using the ACES Model, learn how to identify behaviors associated with a traumatic experience and how this practice, which begins with connection, can be a conduit for building safe relationships with students. These meaningful connections are the beginning of healing and intervention which leads to improved academic and interpersonal outcomes.

6. Study Smarter, Not Longer

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 214C
Topic: Elementary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Jill Riethmayer

Students are often expected to ‘just know how’ to be successful students. These skills are never a specific part of their curriculum; however, it is assumed that those skills will be simply acquired while progressing through grades K - 12. While working for over 25 years with community college students, I taught a study skills class that turned academic probation/suspension students into successful students. They were assisted in ‘digging out of an academic hole’ that often quickly happens to incoming freshmen who are not equipped to handle the effective management of time in an environment where they are ‘on their own’ far more than when in high school. Topics of this workshop will include: learning styles; organization of time, information and materials; note taking; reading and marking textbooks, handouts and notes as well as studying strategies and test-taking strategies.
7. Bullying: A Continuum of Behavior

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 214D
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): Teri Hensley Marrow

The focus of this presentation is to examine the differences between rude, mean and bullying behaviors. This presentation will: (a) provide an overview of the differences between rude, mean and bullying behaviors; (b) provide a summary of strategies for school counselors when providing guidance counseling; (c) offer a conceptual model of individual interventions for addressing rude, mean and bullying behaviors; (d) Adapt information about rude, mean and bullying behaviors to include in parent and staff training.

8. Conquering the Diseases of Despair with Discoveries in Neuroscience, Mindfulness, and Positive Education

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 216AB
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Dennette Gardner, Lisa Grady

Between the years of 2007 - 2017, the rate of diseases of despair (anxiety, depression, suicidal ideation, substance abuse, violence) increased at an alarming rate and affected even younger age groups. The incidence of major depressive episodes among children ages 12 - 17 increased 52%. There were 1.2 million suicide-related emergency room visits by U.S. children ages 5-18 in 2015, almost double that from 2007. Nearly 45 percent were children ages 5-11. Safety is also a growing concern as school shootings are, sadly, a common occurrence in the U.S.A. School counselors see a sharp rise in bullying whether in person or on social media. This workshop will address the growing mental health crisis in the country and provide experiential knowledge with evidence-based tools that will support counselors in helping more students in less time. Learn about the growing, global Positive Education and Mindfulness movements with proven success in improving student’s social emotional lives and academic achievement. With Inner Explorer, a Top 10 program for executive function and brain health, school counselors can multiply their effectiveness across the campus and into the community.
9. Red Cross Disaster Mental Health Fundamentals

Time: 2:30-5:30pm (3-Hour)
Room: 214B
Topic: Crisis Response
Presenter(s): Julie Jones

Disaster Mental Health Fundamentals introduces the key concepts, knowledge and skills required of a Red Cross Disaster Mental Health (DMH) worker. This program will provide participants with the opportunity to apply their learning to real-world examples that reflect challenges experienced by Disaster Mental Health responders, from supporting a local Disaster Action Team (DAT) response to serving on a larger disaster relief operation.

10. Personality in Counseling and Classroom: Opening the Door to Connection and Change

Time: 2:30-5:30pm (3-Hour)
Room: 302A
Topic: Counselor Education
Presenter(s): Randy Guttenberger, Lydia Giordano

Connecting with students and staff in counseling and in the classroom is essential to learning, to trust, and to change. While we connect with some, it is difficult to connect with all. The key to making that connection is to speak in the personality style of the hearer! Come learn how we all hear through a personality filter, how to overcome it, and how to speak into the filter of those we are trying to reach, i.e. speaking their personality language. Your words will move them from their reactive system into their conscious mind, enabling clear thought and reason to prevail. Through case studies, group discussion, activities and instruction you will learn how personality language changes the message once filtered into the brain and how to change your language to better connect with your students and staff! Learn what to look for in assessments and how to use them.

11. Preparing Students With High Functioning Autism in Transition to College

Time: 2:30-5:30pm (3-Hour)
Room: 303A
Topic: Counselor Education
Presenter(s): Sandra Salazar

This program will prepare school counselors to address the needs of students with HFASD in transitioning from high school to college. Specific strategies and outcomes will be shared, and opportunities will be offered for interaction among participants. Participants will work together to develop a sample of a high school transitional plan to enhance their work with students who have HFASD.

12. A Path to Exemplary School Counseling Programs: A Side by Side Look at the Texas Model, the Newly Revised TEMPSC, and the CREST Award Program

Time: 2:30-5:30pm (3-Hour)
Room: 303BC
Topic: School Counseling
Presenter(s): Elias Zambrano, Ernest Cox, Jennifer Akins

Learn ideas and tools to help your school counseling program become an award-winning Exemplary School Counseling Program! The Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs, 5th Edition - now codified in law, TCA's newly published Texas Evaluation Model for Professional School Counselors, 3rd Edition, and TSCA's Counselors Reinforcing Excellence for Students in Texas (CREST) awards program are completed and ready for your use! Learn how these tools align with each other to support and guide your school counseling program to reach new levels of excellence. Discover how these tools can collectively support your professional skills to deliver high quality, student-oriented services through a comprehensive school counseling program!
13. Successful Online Learners

Time: 4:00-5:30pm
Room: 223
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): Cari Moye, Brenda Shupe, Jeff Oldham

In the ever-growing world of online education, it is imperative that we assist our students in gaining the necessary skills to be successful in their online environments. School counselors will need to be a primary resource for equipping these students to be confident online learners. Come hear how our TTU K-12 counselors and teachers help prepare our students to be successful, independent learners in the rapidly changing online landscape.

14. Counseling the Gifted: How Gifted Traits Can Effect Individual and/or Group Sessions

Time: 4:00-5:30pm
Room: 224
Topic: Child & Adolescent Counseling
Presenter(s): Michelle Vignon, Linda Vargas-Lew

Gifted individuals present their own sets of challenges due to their unique needs on both the academic and emotional levels. Qualities such as overexcitabilities, asynchronous development, and higher rates of anxiety can interfere with their lives and brilliance. The emotional needs and sensitivities present in the gifted can, in turn, create challenges when meeting with the individual and/or as a small group. When one realizes this, then counseling individuals who are gifted must incorporate this understanding into the counseling sessions.

15. Teacher Wellness: A Stepping Stone to Student Success

Time: 4:00-5:30pm
Room: 225C
Topic: Wellness & Self Care
Presenter(s): Jacquelyn (Garza) Schuster, Lauren Rocha, Jennifer Gerlach

Recent research indicates a decline in teacher wellness and mental health and an increase in burnout, anxiety, and poor physical health. Consequently, the wellbeing of teachers has a significant effect on student and colleague relationships, student and campus outcomes, and overall school climate. Mindfulness practices have shown improvement in wellbeing through strategies of nonjudgment, being openhearted, and being present in the present at the moment. We will discuss and practice implementing a wellness workshop for teachers with strategies based on mindfulness approaches. The workshop is divided into themes such as breathing, stress, anger, self-compassion. Each theme follows the format of an introduction, recognition, and application of mindfulness-based coping strategies. School counselors will be taken through the layout of the workshop while practicing mindfulness skills. The workshop can be converted into a full school program, incorporated into professional development, along with other formats. Furthermore, a discussion will demonstrate how increasing teacher well-being positively impacts student academic and social-emotional growth.

16. It Takes a Village: Effective Parent Presentations

Time: 4:00-5:30pm
Room: 225D
Topic: Child & Adolescent Counseling
Presenter(s): Jessica Casteel

Presenter will lead participants through several parent presentations. These presentations cover disciplining using conscious discipline, house bill 5 information, reducing stress during the holidays, and strategies to help a stressed and anxious child. Many of these presentations could be tailored to any age level though they are created for junior high and high school students.
17. A Call for School Counselor Mentors

Time: 4:00-5:30pm
Room: 214A
Topic: Career Development
Presenter(s): Gretchen Eckhardt McLain

School counselors face many challenges, and often experience role ambiguity and burnout. While school counselors in large school districts can work with a counseling team and are able to experience mentorship opportunities, counselors in smaller school districts may not have those resources available to them. This article examines the published literature regarding the preparation of school counselors, as well as mentorship opportunities available to teachers as administrators. A model plan is proposed to make resources available to novice school counselors to ensure their success in the profession.

18. Tech Savvy School Counseling

Time: 4:00-5:30pm
Room: 214C
Topic: Technology
Presenter(s): John Spoede, Karen Frederick

What technology should I use? What are the ethical implications? What are the apps that will best meet my needs as a school counselor? Participants with or without experience with appropriate technologies are encouraged to attend! This session facilitates discussion about integrating technology appropriately using the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling. Ethical codes and Texas regulations will also be addressed. This session will introduce some technologies, and will also be interactive in nature with attendees being asked to share about their use of technology in school counseling. Your input is welcome!

19. Campus Alliance Telehealth Resources - An Integrated Approach

Time: 4:00-5:30pm
Room: 214D
Topic: Counselor Collaboration
Presenter(s): Judy Jarratt

The Campus Alliance Telehealth Resource (CATR) program is a promising school-based mental health initiative. CATR will provide a resource for identifying students at risk for committing school violence and intervening with those students before acts of violence might occur. This informational session will provide you with insight on how CATR works and how your school might benefit from this resource.

20. Wrap Around Counseling Services for Emotional Wellness in the 21st Century

Time: 4:00-5:30pm
Room: 216AB
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): Audrey Robinson, Kemberly Edwards, Alyssha Walker

In response to the proliferation of behavioral and mental health concerns in schools, Mesquite ISD counselors have pioneered a PK-12 emotional wellness/SEL roll-out for all students. This vertically aligned approach allows for proactive intervention through direct instruction, training of all staff, and responds to larger mental health concerns through tiered counseling services. The goal of these wrap around services is to improve school climate, instructional focus, and the overall wellness of students. This process was created in collaboration with CASEL and Momentous Institute, is data supported, and makes use of existing resources. Wrap-around services and SEL initiatives support Trauma Informed Care. A shareable model and resources will be provided, so counselors and directors of any level can create a plan tailored to fit individual district and campus needs.
21. Change is Scary! What You Need to Know About Being a New Professional School Counselor

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 221A
Topic: Counselor Education
Presenter(s): Claudia Smith, Jill Adams

This interactive program is designed to support new professional school counselors as they navigate the transition from classroom teacher to professional school counselor. We will discuss and examine possible challenges, difficult scenarios, relationships with administration, compassion fatigue and much more in this session. Whether you are brand new to the profession or returning to the profession after some time, we welcome all to share and leave with some useful strategies and resources to guide you through this change.

22. TSCA Presents: SWAT: A Whole Child Approach to Student Safety

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 221BC
Topic: Trauma & Grief
Presenter(s): Lesa Pritchard, Ashley Stewart, Hector Hernandez

Boerne ISD is putting all the pieces of the puzzle of threat assessment teams together to support the Whole Child by creating Safety and Wellness Advisory Teams (SWAT). In this hands-on and scenario based workshop, Boerne ISD will share with participants how we use a Multi-tiered System of Support where administrators, school resource officers, counselors, nurses, teachers, and coaches work together to identify, assess, and intervene with students who are having behavioral health and academic issues. We use the same MTSS process for behavioral wellness as we do for academic wellness, making the process less stigmatizing for students and their families.

23. The Mindful Approach to Teen Suicide Prevention

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 221D
Topic: Suicide Prevention, Intervention, Postvention
Presenter(s): Crystal Dudley

Our youth today experience and are exposed to more Trauma than generations before. School bullying transformed from ‘teasing’ to injuries resulting in hospitalizations and in some cases, death. School popularity has developed from being crowned ‘homecoming’ queen, to ‘likes’ on social media. Teen depression is at an all time high, and the external triggers from living a life as a teen are endless. Using a mindful approach to teen suicide provides education, intervention, and prevention tools to all teens. These techniques can be taught in one on one, group, or classroom settings. Providing youth with the tools to understand their emotions, name their emotions, and self regulate, provides preventative measures that will minimize self harm thoughts and activities. These techniques can be used by teens, younger students, as well as adult staff members.
24. Academic, Career, Personal, Social, Emotional...Oh My!

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 224

Presenter(s): Dianne Kosto

Why Neurofeedback is a No Brainer- In this presentation, professionals in the academic, therapeutic and mental health realms will obtain valuable real world information on understanding brainwave behavior and how it manifests and affects students and adults every day. We then discuss the technology and how neurofeedback can quickly and easily impact their current programs. By providing insight to understand how implementing neurofeedback can be a simple, painless and seamless addition to traditional programs already in place and show that it can significantly improve quality, progress and results as well. Q & A and open discussion. Introductory level- Covers how stress, anxiety, technology & trauma can impact learning, behavior, and brain development and how we can guide the way toward lasting change and better solutions.

27. House Bill 3 for School Counselors and New Counselor Supports from TEA

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 225D
Topic: Secondary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Alexis Bauserman

Want to stay up to date with all college, career, and military components within House Bill 3? No need to worry because the new Counseling, Advising, and Student Supports Team at TEA is here to break it all down for you! While House Bill 3 (passed during the 86th Texas Legislature) creates historic opportunities for Texas schools around funding and equity, it also brings with it some questions about how to advise students and when certain requirements go into effect. Please join us for a deeper dive into the HB 3 components that are relevant to the work of school counselors and college readiness advisors. We are also excited to debut a new team at TEA devoted to supporting the work of school counselors, college readiness advisors, and others who directly support students. Join us to learn more about this growing team, weigh in on the future supports that you would like for us to provide, and get plugged into the work that is happening now.
28. Seasons of a Military Connected Student
Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 214A

Presenter(s): Lisa Remey

As a school counselor, understanding the unique challenges of the military connected student is crucial in supporting them during their season at your school. This session will help you in identifying the potential gaps and struggles, understand cycles of the military lifestyle, and build on student strengths to help them integrate within your school community.

29. Texas Education for Homeless Children and Youth Program: How Counselors Can Support Students Experiencing Homelessness
Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 214B
Topic: Counselor Education
Presenter(s): Cal Lopez

Thousands of students enrolled in Texas schools’ experience homelessness every year. The purpose of the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act is to identify and remove barriers for children and youth experiencing homelessness and ensure that students in these circumstances have equitable access to all available supports and resources to meet the same challenging state academic standards established for all students.

During this session we will discuss key requirements and components of the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act. Participants will learn more about risk factors, indicators, and strategies to identify students experiencing homelessness. Participants will receive valuable information and resources to help them make the necessary links within their local education agency (LEA) and community to serve homeless students, and ultimately ensure that students experiencing homelessness have equitable access to school and community support services and resources. TEA Texas Education for Homeless Children and Youth (TEHCY) priority projects, program, and grant updates will be discussed. During this session participants will have the opportunity to provide input and feedback to assist with the development of TEHCY program resources, trainings, and tools needed to strengthen the capacity of school personnel and community stakeholders to support homeless students.

30. Music in Every Classroom: Using Music to Support & Enhance SEL in the Classroom

Room: 214D
Topic: Elementary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Daniel Alvarez, Courtney Taylor

A growth mindset! Do you want to learn different ideas for helping your students develop a growth mindset and assist them when in crisis? We will be discussing how using simple origami structures, makerspace activities, and expressive arts can empower students to help them develop grit, perseverance, and a positive growth mindset. These interactive and hands-on structures can be used in many different counseling formats, such as guidance lessons, small group lessons, or individual sessions and can help show students how valuable a growth mindset can be.

32. Texas Education Code and the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs: What To Know and Do!
Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 216AB
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): Elias Zambrano, Ernest Cox

The Texas Education Code now specifies that Texas school counselors institute a school counseling program that “conforms to the most recent edition of the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs” (Texas Education Code, §33.005, 2019). This session will provide an overview of the model’s content. Information and ideas will be presented to support the implementation of the Texas Model in school districts. Group discussion will be facilitated to support participants with establishing and strengthen the Texas Model’s program structure, its curriculum, and school counselor roles in their school districts.

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 301A
Topic: Secondary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Elizabeth Llongueras, Gretchen Holtsinger

Recent immigrants transferring to our educational system often arrive with high level of coursework that school districts cannot validate or interpret. Giving students credit for the courses they’ve taken not only gives them a powerful academic and emotional boost, it also saves school districts a significant amount of money. Courses (most often Algebra I & Biology) completed outside of the state of Texas are exempt from EOC exams. ValidateME! offers this service and this presentation explains the multiple benefits to school districts as well as to recent immigrant students. When we validate the education these students bring from their native countries, we communicate respect and provide English Learners the opportunity to transition into Texas schools without losing instructional time repeating credits while learning English. ValidateME! is a critical tool to help school districts meet the goal of increasing the graduation rate for English Learners.

34. Data, Data, Data! Using Toggl to Track Use of Time

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 301B
Topic: Technology
Presenter(s): Kaitlyn Lowen

School counselors wear many hats and spend time doing a variety of campus duties. Learn how to use Toggl, a simple time tracking app that can help counselors easily determine their use of time daily, weekly, monthly, and even yearly! This app allows counselors to assess their use of time in: direct and indirect student services, program management, school support, and more. Learn how to sync your calendars to the app and create visible bar and pie charts to impress administrators and stakeholders. This app allows counselors to better advocate for their position by providing concrete data on how much time is being spent in each school counseling program component.

35. Aspirational Advocacy: Helping Our Cause

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 301C
Topic: Advocacy
Presenter(s): Lamar Muro, Lindsay Webster

Teaching and learning about oppression inspires and motivates our commitment to social justice. In school counselor training, an unintended consequence can result when we equip professionals with knowledge, passion, and enthusiasm, but leave them early in their development of discernment. Ironically, some attempt to affect change through methods that can resemble those used by oppressors.

With the introduction of school counselor advocacy competencies in the most recent edition of the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling (Texas Education Agency [TEA], 2018), a discussion of responsible approaches to social justice has become critical for the effective application of advocacy in school counseling programs. In this program, we will make a case for aspirational advocacy. We examine a need for tools to promote social justice through aspirational, influential, and unifying ways. We compare some dynamics of bullying to the re-purposing of social justice, when used to dehumanize others, including those that are unaware, apathetic, or opposed to our cause. We propose that there is wisdom in the values and practices of counseling that can guide us in navigating social justice issues in our schools and communities.

36. How Counselors Can Support Their School After a Major Race or Bias Incident

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 302A
Topic: Multicultural & Social Justice
Presenter(s): Derek Francis, James Bierma

Each year, schools across the US are faced with handling major race/bias incidents in their schools. These types of incidents can cause disruptions in schools and cause students and staff to feel discomfort. In this session, counselors will learn ways to support student with proactive classroom lessons, small groups, and individual counseling activities. Derek Francis has supported several schools in the Twin Cities through major racial incidents.
37. Preparing for the Unexpected

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 302BC
Topic: Crisis Response
Presenter(s): Kristen Ascencio

How can you prepare for the unexpected when you don’t know what to expect? Crisis management planning is a critical component that must be considered in every school system. While we can’t predict the unexpected, we can plan for various crisis situations through thoughtful and systematic planning. Having a framework and district process helps provide stability during an unexpected crisis and a direction for assisting those in need while attempting to reduce further trauma. Join us as we prepare for the unexpected!

38. Thinking about Using your LPC? Details on What to Expect Outside of the Safety of the School System

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 303A
Topic: Private Practice
Presenter(s): Jeanette Lira

As a former School Counselor thinking about leaving for Private Practice is scary. In this program you will learn what to expect if you decide to venture outside the safety of the school system. We will discuss resignation, insurance, credentialing, clients, note taking, private practice (large and small) vs. community counseling vs. school counseling. Difference in responding to ethical dilemmas. Be prepared and don’t get caught off guard. Learn how to re-create a private practice professional identity for full time or part time.

39. School Counselors in the Court Room: An Overview of Ethical Consideration in the Legal System

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 303BC
Topic: Ethics
Presenter(s): John Spoede, Angela Spoede

In this presentation participants will learn how certified school counselors can successfully navigate the court system. This will include topics such as subpoenas, witness (character versus expert), testimony, open and closed records, and confidentiality/privileged communication. Additionally, careful consideration will be given to ethical codes, Texas rules and regulations related to counselors in the court room, and application of the ethical decision making model.

40. Taking the Bully by Both Horns: The Usual Suspects and TALK-WALK-TELL

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 304AB
Topic: Behavioral Interventions
Presenter(s): David Dye

Bullying has been well defined for decades, yet it is still misunderstood and misdiagnosed. This session will provide (free of charge) the following researched based concepts: The Five Rules of Bullying, The Usual Suspects and the powerful conflict resolution strategy TALK-WALK-TELL. Attendees will leave the session with the knowledge and resources to identify, intervene and integrate all students involved in Negative Social Interactions.

41. How Do We Get Adults to Change?

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 304C
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Houston Kraft

Last years conference keynote speaker, Houston Kraft, is back to share his insights into student AND staff behavior change to impact classroom and campus culture. CharacterStrong is working with over 1,500 schools globally to put a practical focus on effective behavior change through the thoughtful teaching of social and emotional learning (SEL), character development, and relationship-building. How do we integrate and teach these skills in an engaging and relevant way? How do we get the adults in the building on board and bought in?

42. The Roots of Violence: Bullying, Gangs, Violence, Hate Crimes and Kids Killing Kids

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 305
Topic: Elementary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Jill Riethmayer

One cannot deny that violence is escalating in our country - in our homes, schools, communities as well as across our states and our nation. This violence occurs on a continuum ranging all the way from mild bullying behaviors to gang violence to hate crimes to kids killing kids (both inside and outside the classroom). In our response to Columbine and subsequent school shootings, both schools and communities have primarily treated only the symptoms of violence not the actual roots of violence. This workshop explores the roots of violence and identifies significant social toxins that contribute greatly to violence - including kids killing kids.

43. Comprehensive Counseling Program Ideas for a New Year

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 221A
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): Ashley Wright

Come and be refreshed as we discover more innovative ways to help enrich your campus comprehensive counseling program. Using the current Texas Comprehensive Model and technology tools, we will look at each delivery component and create activities that will effectively guide you throughout the year to meet not only the needs of the students but also help to maintain continuous school improvement through both formal and informal data assessments.

44. Rising to the Challenge: Trauma-Informed School Counseling Supports

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 221BC
Topic: Trauma & Grief
Presenter(s): Stephanie Lerner

Trauma-informed counseling supports create invaluable opportunities to support children through the difficult times in their lives. Participants in this program will first learn about trauma-informed practices and how to include them in their counseling program. Second, counselors will practice various strategies and activities that they can use in their own counseling sessions. Participants will leave the session with a blueprint for effective trauma-informed counseling that they can use on their own campuses.

45. Group Work for Middle and High School

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 221A
Topic: Group Work
Presenter(s): Jessica Casteel

During this presentation, presenters will gather enough information and materials to go straight back to campus and begin running groups. Activities to begin groups and set norms to activities to terminate the group and provide resources will be given as well as everything in the middle. We will go through a self-esteem group, a group on grief and loss, and a trauma group. For each group type, we will discuss how participants were chosen, individual intake, and the beginning to end of each group. Participants will all be given the materials and resources to run these groups from start to finish.

46. Counselors Working Within School to Community Systems of Mental Health Care for At-Risk Students

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 225AB
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): Seth Sampson, Angela Cano Sampson

Are you a counselor who finds him or herself questioning their role in school to community systems of mental health care for students struggling with mental health issues? Have you encountered students with mental health illness facing learning barriers that stifle their growth and find yourself ill equipped or struggling for mental health counseling support? Do you find yourself alone in trying to advocate for mental health systems of care in schools to better serve students with mental health illness? The presenter(s) will offer insight on ways to give emphasis to the need for improved school to community systems of mental health care for at-risk students. Counselors will be equipped with added knowledge and perspective on how to advocate for comprehensive mental health systems of care in schools. The presenter(s) aims to (a) to expand the understanding counselors have with mental health systems of care in schools, role confusion and mental health service coordination in the context of present school operations and policy; and (b) to support new advocacy strategies that school counselors can use when advocating for mental health systems of care reform in schools for at-risk students.
47. ROPES Experiential Activities that Build Connection and Promote Growth

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 225C
Topic: Elementary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Matt Smith

Come and join the fun as we build trust, communication, and problem solving skills through ROPES experiential activities! These hands on activities can be adapted for both elementary and secondary students and staff, and we’ll emphasize the important role of the diverse student voice throughout this session. Let’s laugh and learn together as we grow our tools for supporting groups back on campus!

48. Brainstorming for Student Success (Or ‘You did whaaaaaat?! How did that work out for you?”)

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 225D
Topic: Behavioral Interventions
Presenter(s): Jeff Grote

Student problems can be exasperating, worrisome, keep us awake at night, and ruin a perfectly good day. What if the solution was only a phone call away, or a question in a presentation away? Helping each other is a must if we are to effectively serve our students in the ever-changing cultural environment, BUT asking for help is often difficult. This presentation provides the format for you to gain insight from a room full of gifted and talented folks who love to help others. Audience inspired scenarios will be discussed. Bring your real world issues to be problem solved by the group! You are also encouraged to email these in advance to jefflgrote@aol.com to increase the chance of getting help in the presentation. You will leave inspired and ready to help, as well as have contact information of others for future reference.

49. Expanding Character Education Beyond Classroom Guidance: Our School’s Journey to State and National School of Character

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 214B
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Diana Cashion-Dodson, Lauren Boyher

As school counselors do you feel as if you are the only character education champions on your campus? Are your guidance lessons the only opportunity your students have to practice their character development and social/emotional learning? This session is a must see for you! As two school counselors who felt just this way five years ago, we would love to share our school’s journey. Cambridge Elementary in Alamo Heights ISD was just named 2019 State and National School of Character by character.org. We will share our 5 year roadmap of how our campus changed its character education focus to include all stakeholders and how this process permeated through our school’s climate, culture, teaching, and learning. There were many roadblocks along the way, but the journey itself has helped to change the lives of our staff, students, and parents! In direct response to HB 1026, we can give you some tools to help further your character education efforts! Come learn how to intentionally cultivate character development on your campus using the Eleven Principles of Effective Character Education Framework.

50. Understanding and Interpreting Ethical & Legal Standards for School Counselors: A review of ACA, ASCA, & the Texas Education Code

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 216AB
Topic: Ethics
Presenter(s): Michael Moyer

This highly interactive program will challenge school counselors to evaluate how they understand and interpret ethical and legal standards related to professional school counseling. The presenter uses multiple case studies and thought provoking ethical dilemmas to encourage counselors in understanding morals, values, beliefs and motivations that affect interpretation of ethical and legal standards. Participants will come away with a better understanding of ACA and ASCA ethical standards as well as current Texas laws affecting school counselors.
51. Using Texas OnCourse for Successful Middle to High School Transition: Tools for Understanding Endorsements and Careers

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 301A
Topic: College Readiness
Presenter(s): Lara Gueguen, Kathy Zarate, Brandi Williams, Megan Guidry

Our session will focus on supporting middle and high school teachers and counselors in their efforts to create an effective, informative student transition experience from the middle school grades into high school. Presenters from the Texas OnCourse staff and our statewide Leader Fellows program will highlight Texas OnCourse resources and curriculum that support this transition. These include content and best practices using our professional development in the Academy, our Middle School Curriculum Guide, and many teaching and counseling tools related to endorsements, career pathways, and course registration. As a group, we will identify challenges that exists for counselors, students, and parents in the transition from middle to high school and share resources, tools, and best practices used in districts to create effective transition programs.

52. US Service Academies and the US Naval Academy: Application, Academics and Student Life

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 301B
Topic: Secondary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Leigh McNeil, Lashaundra Collins

The application process to a service academy can be quite daunting. Come learn more about the Academies, and delve deeper into the application to the US Naval Academy as a case in point. Learn about the application process from the perspective of the student as well as the counselor, including the nomination process. Learn about the academic opportunities at the Academy, as well as student life.

53. Promoting Modern Allyship: Helping Counselors to be Better LGBTQ+ Allies

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 301C
Topic: Multicultural & Social Justice
Presenter(s): Elizabeth Owens

This presentation will focus on how to be better allies to the LGBTQ+ community in our schools as counselors and as people. We will cover current best practices and standards of care as set forth by ACA, ALGBTIC, WPATH, and APA. We will cover the differences between gender identity, sexual orientation, and romantic/affectional orientations. We will also discuss recognizing and acknowledging privilege and bias, current terminology and why language is important, and how to create and promote safe spaces and how to be safe people.

56. Seeking a Sense of Belonging: Race and Equity and the Role of School Counselors as Builders of Cultural Proficiency

- Time: 12:00-1:30pm
- Room: 303A
- Topic: Multicultural & Social Justice
- Presenter(s): Valerie Martinez, Angela Taylor-Blackshear

Immigrant students require the help of the entire school community so that they can make a positive transition. There are several approaches that the school counselors may use to include invested parties and to promote cultural understanding within the school environment. This program will describe how school counselors can develop staff training workshops that focus on using cross-cultural simulations and other activities, strategies, and techniques that lead school personnel in understanding how culture shock, past/current trauma, and other migration-related stressors affect students and thus the entire school environment. In addition, these trainings will help build faculty and staff support in facilitating positive cross-cultural understanding and appreciation of immigrant students.

57. Building a Toolkit to Support Mental & Behavioral Health Needs of Students

- Time: 12:00-1:30pm
- Room: 303BC
- Topic: Behavioral Interventions
- Presenter(s): Natalie Fikac, Julie Wayman

Professional School Counselors wear many hats on their campuses in supporting the academic, post-secondary and mental health needs of their students. Texas Education Agency has created a toolkit that includes evidence-based and evidence-informed resources that can assist PSCs in the development of a comprehensive MTSS framework to support the mental and behavioral health needs of their students and families.

58. Bully Prevention on the Elementary Campus [Part 1]

- Time: 12:00-1:30pm
- Room: 304AB
- Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
- Presenter(s): Kimberley Gaskill, Jennifer Morante, DeeAnn Montanez, Stephanie Garcia

During this session, the presenters will provide foundation knowledge of the different roles within a bully incident. The presentation will begin with the research based definition of bullying, bystander and victim. There will be discussion on the different types of bullies and how they interact with the other individuals involved in the incident. Presenters will also provide information on laws, resources and information that can be used with the campus communities.
59. It’s a Matter of Motivation: Strategies for Supporting Students and Staff

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 304C
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Lesley Casarez, Audrey Heron, Ashley Atwood, Tamra Kelly

Motivation is a common challenge in all levels of education. School counselors are often asked to assist with students who seem to have no motivation to participate in learning activities and/or appropriate school behavior. Furthermore, teachers frequently seek out counselors for guidance on how to work with these students. In addition, some school personnel have lost their passion for education and their motivation for continually improving their practice. Self-determination theory of motivation (SDT, Ryan & Deci, 2000), postulates that competence, autonomy, and relatedness are the three psychological needs that underlie human behavior. Ideally, all students and educators are motivated to put forth their best efforts to achieve success and formulate their own goals for personal performance. Attendees will be provided with a ‘toolkit’ of strategies that school counselors can utilize to foster student and faculty/staff motivation in the school setting. Attendees will gain knowledge of motivation theory, and will leave the session with goals and strategies for improving their professional practice.

60. How to Reach Kids who are Stuck: EMDR and Other Interventions for Students who Don’t Know Which way is Up

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 305
Topic: Behavioral Interventions
Presenter(s): Mike Hays

This training will focus on answering common concerns of teachers and parents with students who have lost their motivation and/or don’t know where to start with academic success. Drawing methods from EMDR and DBT, the presenter will discuss methods for helping kids get unstuck, and will present a systematic approach for working with students who have significant trauma, loss, or lack of support that affects them in both overt and covert ways.

61. Not Being Heard? The use of Sandtray to Build Strong and Supportive Relationships With Students and School Stakeholders

Time: 12:30-3:30pm (3-Hour)
Room: 214A
Topic: Play Therapy
Presenter(s): Levi McClendon, Lesa Pritchard

Many students come to counseling with a desire for change, but may lack the commitment needed. Similarly, school counselors advocate for change with school stakeholders who may be interested, but not committed. School counselors are expected to solve student problems quickly, yet without a solid therapeutic alliance, a brief intervention is unlikely to inspire greater student commitment or stakeholder commitment. Similarly, school counselors advocating for the Texas Model alignment and CREST designation may find their school stakeholders desire the change, but lack the commitment to move towards it. Client centered sandtray creates an environment of connection which allows movement from interested but not committed, to interested, committed, fully-engaged, and connected.

62. When Students Struggle: Suicide Assessment and Treatment for the School Counselor

Time: 12:30-3:30pm (3-Hour)
Room: 214C
Topic: Suicide Prevention, Intervention, Postvention
Presenter(s): Rebecca Mathews, Donna Hickman, Michael Schmit

Suicide is one of the leading causes of death for children and adolescents. School counselors are on the front lines of identifying and supporting children with suicidal ideation and behaviors. The goal of this presentation is to present an evaluative overview of several different suicide assessments that can be used in school settings (KSADS, C-SSRS, SAFE-T, PHQ-9). How to apply them to younger-aged children will be discussed. Lethal means restriction and safety planning in the school setting will also be reviewed.

63. TEMPSC-III: Enhancing School Counselor Practice Through Job-related Performance Evaluation

Time: 12:30-3:30pm (3-Hour)
Room: 214D
Topic:
Presenter(s): Elias Zambrano, Ernest Cox

64. Easy as 1-2-3, Counseling Strategies for New and Experienced Counselors

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 221A
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): LaTrenda Watson, Anthonia Osborne

Are you having a difficult time fully implementing a comprehensive school counseling program at your school? Do you want new ways to reach students? If so, this session is for you. Whether this is your first year as a school counselor or your 10th year as a school counselor, this session will assist you in bringing new strategies to your counselor tool-kit to energize your counseling program. This presentation is a collaborative effort from a seasoned counselor and a fairly new counselor.

65. Prevention and Awareness of School-Aged Child Human Trafficking

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 221BC
Topic: Counselor Education
Presenter(s): Abby Rodriguez

Human trafficking is not only a global problem, but a Texas problem. In some instances, law enforcement has confirmed cases of trafficking occurring on school grounds and even during school events carried out by classmates. Your role, whether it be a teacher, administrator, school counselor, or other school staff member places you in a position to assist in identifying and reporting human trafficking. TEA is working closely with a multiple state partners, including the Office of the Governor and the Office of the Attorney General to address human trafficking of school-aged children. This session will increase your awareness on identification, prevention, and mandatory reporting as it relates to school-aged human trafficking and provide an overview of key activities for educators, and new resources available.

66. Conquering the Diseases of Despair with Discoveries in Neuroscience, Mindfulness, and Positive Education

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 221D
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Dennette Gardner, Lisa Grady

Between the years of 2007 - 2017, the rate of diseases of despair (anxiety, depression, suicidal ideation, substance abuse, violence) increased at an alarming rate and affected even younger age groups. The incidence of major depressive episodes among children ages 12 - 17 increased 52%. There were 1.2 million suicide-related emergency room visits by U.S. children ages 5-18 in 2015, almost double that from 2007. Nearly 45 percent were children ages 5-11. Safety is also a growing concern as school shootings are, sadly, a common occurrence in the U.S.A. School counselors see a sharp rise in bullying whether in person or on social media. This workshop will address the growing mental health crisis in the country and provide experiential knowledge with evidence-based tools that will support counselors in helping more students in less time. Learn about the growing, global Positive Education and Mindfulness movements with proven success in improving student’s social emotional lives and academic achievement. With Inner Explorer, a Top 10 program for executive function and brain health, school counselors can multiply their effectiveness across the campus and into the community.

81. ‘I’m Grieving as Fast as I Can’ - About Life and Loss

Time: 2:00-3:30pm
Room: 305
Topic: Secondary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Jill Riethmayer

In a world saturated with loss, individuals rarely get to truly grieve their losses. Come explore why talking about grief and loss is taboo in our modern society. Identify ways to assist giving others, as well as yourself, ‘permission’ to grieve. Discover the critical questions that need to be asked by those exploring a loss as well as the answers that can begin to point them toward answers to their questions.
Learn both how and why ‘ungrieved’ losses of the past impact both the present, and if not resolved, the future. Ungrieved past losses magnify new losses and rob us of fully being able to live in the present with all of its richness. Essentially, someone with ungrieved losses is ‘held hostage’ to the past. Come learn how to work through grief - not go around it. Learn the phases of bereavement as well as take a new look at the Stages of Grief. David Kessler who worked/wrote with Kubler Ross has added a sixth stage of grief. A list of Grief Resources will also be provided.

Participants will come away with a better understanding of ACA and ASCA ethical standards as well as current Texas laws affecting school counselors.

84. Guidance 101

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 221D
Topic: Elementary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Janet Graczyk, Denise Toro, Radha Patel

Guidance curriculum can be intimidating to plan and implement. As one of the four components of a Comprehensive School Counseling Program, it is essential for school counselors to systematically provide lessons in order to promote student growth and development in all domains. In this session, you will learn techniques to plan and conduct engaging guidance lessons from start to finish for all grade levels.

85. Suicidal Ideation and Intervention in Elementary Schools

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 225AB
Topic: Suicide Prevention, Intervention, Postvention
Presenter(s): Charles Crews, Renetta Harris

This program will engage participants in the identification, assessment, and prevention of suicide in elementary aged students. Come learn how to infuse suicide prevention education in your counseling program. Prevention and Intervention implementation, educational resources for parents, self-harm, safety planning, and the diversity implications of attempted suicide and suicidal ideation in children.

86. How to Make Them say, ‘Oh, I get it.’ Using Non-traditional Techniques to Reach Non-traditional Clients

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 225C
Topic: Child & Adolescent Counseling
Presenter(s): Ashley Doyle

Traditional talk-therapy is beneficial for many clients, but what do you do when that doesn't work? I have learned that quick thinking and thinking out of the box have helped me to find ways that allow clients to develop a deeper understanding of their problems and empower them to solve problems without developing a dependency on the counselor. I use a multisenory approach to counseling when clients need more than talk-therapy. In this session I'll share many ‘go to’ items that can be used to help clients understand and visualize the big picture of their situation. This enables them to come to solutions and problem solve with little guidance on the counselor's part.
87. Teaching Character in Middle and High Schools, A Direct Response to Texas House Bill 1026

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 225D
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Joseph Hoedel

In 2018, the Texas Legislature passed House Bill 1026, mandating that all public schools must teach positive character traits in the 2019-2020 school year. Often this responsibility falls on the school counselor. This session will help you understand the research, effective ways of implementation and various approaches nationwide. This session will also highlight one particular program, Character Development and Leadership, which is currently used in 2,700 schools nationwide and 58 secondary schools in Texas. Dr. Hoedel, author of this program, will discuss implementation methods, how learning styles are met and best practices.

88. Child-Centered Play Therapy in the School Setting: Implementation and Beyond

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 214A
Topic: Play Therapy
Presenter(s): Audrey Robinson

Child-Centered Play Therapy (CCPT) is the most researched form of play therapy. The school setting presents unique challenges for implementing play therapy. This presentation will help the attendee create a plan for implementing CCPT in a school setting and monitoring progress. Innovative tips and tricks for incorporating CCPT into classroom lessons, staff development, and for behavior support will be provided.

89. Overcoming Overwhelm: The Power of Resilience!

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 214B
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Ana Amos

Guide your students though stress, anxiety and apathy to FIND THEIR GREATNESS through the power of RESILIENCE. In this age of helicopter parents, lawnmower grandparents, blended families, and so many other well-meaning care-giver scenarios, teaching kids to BECOME THEIR OWN HEROES is crucial! The pressures and struggles our youth are experiencing today are tougher than ever, but fewer and fewer seem to have the coping mechanisms to enable them to bounce back. How can we create a counseling program that will introduce, encourage and nurture this quality in our students? This session will showcase practical, effective strategies and information to help create a culture of ‘BOUNCING BACK’ in our schools and in life!
90. Addressing the Unique Needs of Military Connected Students

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 214C
Topic: Counselor Education
Presenter(s): Abby Rodriguez

Did you know there are over 89,000 identified military connected student attending public schools across the state of Texas? Over the past two years, the Texas Education Agency (TEA) has increased statewide capacity, resources and support for educators and stakeholders in addressing the unique needs of military connected students. This session will provide updates on 86th Legislative Session, an overview of TEA priority projects, a deeper understanding of the Interstate Compact on Educational Opportunity for Military Children (MIC3) and additional resources available.

91. I’m Fine, We’re Fine, It’s Fine - Secondary Trauma for Educators

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 214D
Topic: Wellness & Self Care
Presenter(s): Anne Lehew

As educators we often minimize the effects of secondary trauma. This can have lasting effects on our professional and personal lives. Participants will learn how to recognize secondary trauma and coping skills for dealing with secondary trauma.

92. School Counselors and Comprehensive SEL Integration

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 216AB
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Cheryl Loving, Michele Fesenbek, Heather Quast

School Districts are committing to integrating social and emotional learning into school culture with the aim of creating systemic changes in education. Through this workshop style presentation, Allen ISD will share experiences and help counselors prepare for the challenges and discover the solutions to formulating and aligning SEL objectives and creating a school climate that welcomes implementation of comprehensive multi-tiered EC-12 Social and Emotional Learning Frameworks.

93. Expanding Your Repertoire of Effective Guidance Lessons

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 301A
Topic: Elementary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Richard Zabransky

This workshop will demonstrate creative ideas that may be used for classroom or small group settings. Lessons will integrate free online resources and original reproducible handouts. The activities have all been classroom tested, and the presentation will include samples of student work as well as suggestions for display and setting up a guidance classroom. Topics will include Social-Emotional Learning: Feelings and Manners, Character Building: How truth will set you free, and Drug Prevention: How saying no to smoking will lead to a healthy, drug free life.

94. Duke University Talent Identification Program

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 301B
Topic: Behavioral Interventions
Presenter(s): Traci Guidry

Duke TIP is a nonprofit organization that, since its founding in 1980, has served nearly 3 million academically talented students in grades four through twelve. Collaborating with educators and parents, TIP helps gifted students assess the extent of their academic abilities with above-grade-level testing, recognizes them for their achievements, and provides them with a variety of enrichment benefits as well as accelerated face-to-face and online educational programs. In addition, TIP conducts research into the educational, emotional, and social factors impacting the lives of gifted children, then shares this research and related advice with our program staff, educators, parents, and the greater gifted community.
95. Supporting Students Experiencing Early Psychosis in Middle School and High School

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 301C
Topic: Behavioral Interventions
Presenter(s): Christie Taylor, Jessica Hissam

Representatives of the Texas Mental Health Services department will help conference participants recognize students suffering from the serious mental condition of psychosis. They will educate conference participants about the well-researched and recommended mental health treatment model called, ‘Continuity of Care.’ Workshop attendees will be able to identify psychosis early, reduce the barriers to treatment, and help link students and their parents to community treatment resources located in their Community Mental Health Centers throughout Texas. Conference attendees will explore important school interventions and supports such as disclosing a diagnosis, reducing bullying, setting goals, engaging support and accommodations. Specific common educational interventions for psychosis that are based on individual needs will be shared. The importance of school support team meetings will be explored. Reducing Stigma in schools and instilling hope in recovery for youth and young adults who are experiencing psychosis will be shared. Early intervention to stop the social emotional deterioration that may accompany psychosis can be arrested and disability can be avoided or significantly reduced.

96. From Chaos to Calm: Why People Behave the Way They Do; What Can I Do About It

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 302A
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Tracy Skripka, Shari Harris

Understanding why people behave the way they do is the first step toward knowing how to handle misbehavior. This session will teach you about the brain, how it works, what three brain states dictate behavior, and how to shift people into a higher brain state so they can problem solve conflicts that arise and can respond more positively to everyday upsets rather than react impulsively and negatively when life doesn’t go their way.

97. Creating Career Day Events Your Students Will Never Forget!

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 302BC
Topic: Career Development
Presenter(s): Karen Powell

This session will equip you with the knowledge of procedures, skills, and tools to create a memorable career day. Learn about career day styles; determining student interest; finding ideal presenters; preparing a hospitality room for presenters; minimizing cancellations and no-shows; creating a timeline for specific implementation steps; using technology to create schedules; and evaluating the career day. Participants will have access to editable documents that can be used in organizing and implementing a career day. This session is valuable for directors, school counselor educators, and K-12 counselors who wish to implement or improve a career day.

98. Holistic Approach to Continuity and Self-care Among Educators: Combining Education and Counseling Theories

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 303A
Topic: Wellness & Self Care
Presenter(s): Patrick McDaniel, Melissa Jozwiak, Casandra Jones

Burn-out prevention and self-care among helping professionals has continued to be a weighty challenge, and counseling professionals are in a particularly unique position to assist educators in strengthening their resiliency. The presentation will review an ongoing project combining educational Continuity of Care principals with Choice Theory to produce a bespoke approach to self-care among early childhood educators. The relational requirement for early learning necessitates that we do more than provide continuity of care for children. Teacher self-care is equally as important and can't be left as an afterthought. This session will also explore why some helping professionals and educators may oppose the concepts of continuity of care and its relation to self-care. It shares emerging research on brain architecture and functioning to establish the link between human relationships and learning. It will then explain how Choice Theory is included in the process of establishing continuity of care, stronger relationships and greater learning outcomes. By understanding how they prioritize their basic needs, the educator can create a balance that enables them to be more responsive in their relationship with children, and thereby enabling learning to flourish.

99. SCHOLAR: Online Resources and Supports for Texas School Counselors

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 303BC
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): John Bullion

The School Counselor Handbook for Online Learning and Resources (SCHOLAR) is a FREE tool that houses multiple links and resources in a streamlined and organized format for school counselors in Texas. Initially, a project designed for school counselors to find support and clarification for the multiple roles of the school counselor, SCHOLAR offers a web of tools in a 'one-stop shop' for Texas school counselors and provides access to multiple entities for support. Education Service Center Regional Counselors collaborated on this website and resource-sharing opportunity.

100. Grief Groups in Schools

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 304AB
Topic: Trauma & Grief
Presenter(s): Jessica Leinen

Children often feel isolated in their grief. Their friends don't understand grief and their parents are in too much pain to help them process the loss. They're left alone in their struggles, which is why a grief group is so beneficial for students. It lets them know that they're not alone in their struggles/feelings and that someone truly understands them. In this session we'll review the grief model, benefits of a grief group, the steps in setting up your own group, and activities for each session. By the end of this session, you'll be able to start your own grief group at your campus.

101. Tough Conversations: A Paradigm for Counselors in Understanding, Leading, and Participating in Complicated Conversations

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 304C
Topic: Crisis Response
Presenter(s): Cullen Grinnan, Elizabeth Holbrook, Elizabeth Hennington, Christopher Hennington

Counselors are faced with tough conversations on almost a daily basis. From gun-control, to gender issues, to white privilege, to the cost of obtaining a degree for students. It's complicated and it's often very emotionally charged. We're living in a litigious, sharply divided world often driven at a frantic pace by social media. Come and share our paradigm in which we attempt to keep agendas objective, opinions and hearts open, critical thinking active and dialogue respectful. Bring your issue and let's try it out in a relaxed, considerate, and supportive environment. All are welcomed!

102. Standing Back Up: Working Through A Traumatic Event (such as Hurricane Harvey)

Time: 8:00-9:30am
Room: 305
Topic: Secondary School Counseling
Presenter(s): Jill Riethmayer

In our current world, trauma has invaded the lives of all ages everywhere. The United States is no more immune from trauma (natural or man-made) than any other country. One only has to turn on the news to see the invasion of both natural trauma and man-made trauma into our modern, 'civilized' country. It seems as though we only begin to absorb and begin working through a new traumatic event before another traumatic event is reported on the news. The cumulative impact of trauma can be overwhelming - especially unresolved trauma. The only way to get 'past' trauma and its impact is by walking through (and working through the emotions) the traumatic event and its lasting effects upon an individual, family, community, state or nation. Inside of the trauma work is significant grief work.
Daniel and Jennifer Williamson

Recognizing the Transformational Power of Purpose

Daniel and Jennifer (Nivin) Williamson are Founders of PAX Consulting and Counseling, PLLC and Core Faculty with Capella University in the Department of Counseling. They have been in the fields of higher education and counseling for over 20 years. They specialize in Adlerian Counseling and study how people find purpose and meaning in their lives.

There is tremendous conversation today about compassion fatigue and vicarious trauma for helping professionals. While this is a significant conversation, it is equally important to discuss the merit of living a life of connection and service. Recognizing the value of finding purpose and meaning in one’s life enhances well-being by providing restorative and protective factors. This journey has the potential to be integrated into our work with students and in schools where we can help to foster the Adlerian concept of gemeinschaftsgefühl which translates into community feeling or social interest. This session seeks to help us to reflect upon the idea that we are part of something much larger than ourselves and that what we do has lasting ripples that can change lives and communities.

GENERAL SESSION PROGRAM

Prelude

Welcome: Kimberly Ridgley

Opening Remarks & Recognition: Kimberly Ridgley

Keynote Presentation: Daniel and Jennifer Williamson

Closing: Kimberly Ridgley
103. Resilience Can Be Taught: 10 Strategies Proven to Motivate Any Student

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 221A
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Jason Johnson

Emphasizing the importance of multiple intelligence approaches, this presentation will highlight the significance of teaching youth social and emotional life skills in ways youth can relate to and remember. The multiple intelligence approaches emphasized in this presentation will include videos, music, hands-on activities, journaling, discussion, and ten visual metaphors. The ten strategies addressed in this session center around these easy-to-understand ten visual metaphors. The audience will walk through each of these metaphors while explaining what each teaches youth. The presentation will give special focus to one metaphor in particular, entitled ‘The Reality Ride,’ to demonstrate teaching an entire lesson using multiple intelligence approaches. This lesson teaches youth that choices have consequences, and shows them how to get on a path that leads them to opportunity, freedom, and self-respect.

104. Close the Tap! Regaining Your Health and Strength Through Thoughtful Self-care

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 221BC
Topic: Wellness & Self Care
Presenter(s): Cullen Grinnan, Debbie Healy, Elizabeth Holbrook

Feeling fatigued, frustrated, stressed or overwhelmed? How about low stamina, little patience, and a diminished desire to participate in activities that once were so joyful? Join us in a relaxed, non-judgmental, respectful session as we discuss the critical importance of counselor self-care and how small changes in your life can produce dramatically positive effects. Come in, sit down, relax, and let’s talk!

105. Plugged In - the Impact of Technology, Sexting, and Pornography on Today’s Teens

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 221D
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Lori Kuykendall

Today’s technology brings a whole new set of challenges to young people. The average age of first exposure to pornography is 8 years old! 60% of teens and young adults have received nude images. Pornography is being called ‘the new sex education of our children.’ This interactive session will present the impact of today’s technology, sexting and pornography on the physical, emotional and social health of our youth and families. Historical and cultural trends that have shaped society’s values about sexuality will be presented as an introduction. The widespread involvement with sexting and how it is impacting teens emotionally and relationally will be explored. The session will present the physical and emotional risks of pornography use, as well as the addiction cycle and its impact on the developing adolescent brain and body. Participants will learn strategies for engaging teens with prevention messages on these important topics. The importance of and ways to engage parents in these areas will be shared. And lastly, ways to promote a greater context of healthy relationships and communication will be explored.
106. The Missing Piece to Employer Engagement and Career Advising

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 225AB
Topic: Career Development
Presenter(s): Lorena Knight

Looking for employer engagement on your campuses? Searching for strategies to bring awareness to in-demand careers in your student career advising model? Your local workforce development board may be ‘the missing piece’ you are searching for, and I can help you connect with them. The Texas Workforce Commission is paving the way through the Workforce Career & Education Outreach Pilot Program, where trained Specialists are working in partner school districts throughout the state to provide labor market information to students, parents, teachers, and other stakeholders to build awareness around high growth, high demand careers, career exploration and research tools, and to promote a career-focused culture across campuses.

107. The College Admissions Scandal and You: Going to College in the Era of Operation Varsity Blues

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 225C
Topic: College Readiness
Presenter(s): Jennifer Ledwith

William Singer arranged for parents to pay bribes to SAT and ACT administrators in Texas and California and coaches at Yale University, University of Texas, University of Southern California, and other competitive universities for their children to walk through a ‘side door.’ How can other students -- those who actually play sports and take their own SAT and ACT exams -- find a place in this ‘meritocracy’ of higher education? Learn from a millennial Certified Financial Planner (who graduated with only $1,000 in student loan debt) about how to use the financial planning process to plan financially and academically for college.

108. Mental Wellness Matters

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 225D
Topic: Wellness & Self Care
Presenter(s): Shannon Lumar

This session will detail the broad spectrum of mental health awareness in schools addressed in the 86th legislature. The contents of the session will address ‘the ties that bind together’; implementation of social emotional learning, practical strategies of trauma informed care, and mental health awareness from school staff throughout the community to meet the needs of the ‘whole child’ and enhance academic success.

109. How to Survive Middle School: Fostering Positive Relationships

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 303A
Topic: Social and Emotional Learning
Presenter(s): Brittany Torres

How can you survive being a middle school counselor when working with teenagers can be a challenge? Their ever changing bodies, emotions and thoughts can pose a challenge when striving to meet their social and emotional needs. The key to your success lies in your ability to create and sustain positive relationships with your students, staff, families and community. During this session you will learn strategies to positively connect with your students. From minute meetings to conflict resolution groups, you can meet the various needs of your students. Building relationships takes time and energy but the reward is phenomenal.

110. I Teach Behavior, What’s Your Superpower?

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 303BC
Topic: Comprehensive School Counseling Programs
Presenter(s): Marcie Warner, Sharon Wotipka, Lesa Pritchard

School counselors are campus experts for changing behaviors. Come see how you can help students learn the behavioral skills they need by teaching the Great 8 Super Powers for Daily Life. These skills are from the CASEL 5 SEL skills and fit perfectly in the Texas Model for Counseling. You will get tons of ideas for lessons and experiential activities for your students and clients. It’s not that magic wand we are always looking for, but it’s the next best thing!
111. Building Bridges, Not Barriers: School Counselors and Restorative Justice in Schools

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 304AB
Topic: Behavioral Interventions
Presenter(s): Jennifer Gerlach, Abran Rodriguez, Lauren Rocha, Jacquelyn Shuster

Extant literature posits that traditional, punitive discipline practices (e.g., suspension, detention) are not effective deterrents to problematic student behaviors. In fact, it may exacerbate problematic behaviors, impede academic achievement, and promote disengagement. Further, evidence supports that students with disabilities and students of color are often target and ultimately overrepresented in discipline statistics. As an alternative to traditional discipline, restorative justice (RJ) is a growing trend in schools that focuses on repairing harm and healing. Though our profession advocates for school counselors to be uninvolved in discipline practices, RJ may be an appropriate method where school counselors can utilize their counseling skills to help promote prosocial behaviors in the school community and rebuild relationships after harm has occurred. Join us for an informative session on RJ and hear our firsthand experiences including successes and challenges with using RJ in schools.

112. Addressing the Epidemic of Youth Homelessness

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 304C
Topic: Multicultural & Social Justice
Presenter(s): Tom Edwards

In 2014, Mesquite ISD began casting light on the growing problem of unaccompanied minors (homeless teens) and the multitude of deficits facing these students. As this problem has reached epidemic proportions, especially in large, urban school districts, school personnel have been tasked with identifying these students. The emphasis of this session is to gain an understanding of the scope of this problem, and the learning curve to developing resources that address both the needs of the students, and the implicit bias that sometimes surrounds homelessness and poverty.

113. Nature, Green Space and Adventure: Counseling, Small Group and Large Group Activities that You Can Use

Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Room: 305
Topic: Child & Adolescent Counseling
Presenter(s): Bonnie King, Carlos Rios

There are many benefits to applying nature-based and adventure-based counseling practices into school counseling programs for students such as increased self-esteem, improved behavior, the opportunity to cooperate and overcome challenges, to help decrease ADHD symptoms, and improve creativity (Amoly, 2014; Kou & Taylor, 2004; Berger, 2006, Itin, 2001). The purpose of this presentation is to: 1) Provide an overview of the research related to counseling in green space, and the use of nature-based and adventure-based counseling approaches for child development in academic and social-emotional realms; 2.) provide practical activities for use with children at school for individual counseling, small group and large groups; 3.) connect the ASCA Mindsets and Behavior Competencies to nature and adventure-based activities that school counselors can use to enhance student growth on campus.
WELCOME ADMINISTRATORS!

Thank you for taking time to attend with your school counselors! We've identified programs that we hope will give you strategies and resources to address the array of issues you may face on your campus. Several programs will help you not only meet the new requirement for continuing education on the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs, but also maximize the resources and leadership your school counselor brings to your campus. While you are invited to attend any program, you may find these to be most beneficial.

The Texas Education Code now requires all Texas school counselors to use the Texas Model as the framework for their comprehensive school counseling programs.

Knowledge of the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs is also one of the school counselor competency standards adopted by the State Board for Education Certification.

Recently enacted legislation mandates training for school counselors and principals on the Texas Model.

With new organization, competencies, domains, strategies and tools, the 5th Edition of the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs will take your program to the next level. It reflects best practices as well as statutory requirements for school counseling programs in Texas. Strategies for designing comprehensive school counseling programs that meet the unique needs of your campus and district are included.

Whether you are a new or seasoned school counselor, a director of guidance, a campus administrator, or a counselor educator, this publication is for you! Implement the new domains and competencies for students’ success across all grade levels and identify ways to engage parents, administrators, teachers, and your local community to support your school counseling program.

Counselors Reinforcing Excellence for Students in Texas

Counselors Reinforcing Excellence for Students in Texas (CREST) Awards recognize Texas schools that demonstrate continuous commitments to building campus teams and programs based on the four components of the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs.

These campuses use their Professional School Counselors to design and implement comprehensive school counseling programs that enhance students’ educational, career, personal and social development while preparing them for success.

CREST Award winners were recognized at the TSCA Awards Banquet on February 9, 2020.

The Rhosine Fleming Award was established in memory of Rhosine DuBose Fleming, who was a counselor for Richardson ISD when she died in 1971. Rhosine was instrumental in the organization of TSCA in 1966 and served as TSCA Secretary. This award is given each year to an outstanding school counselor at each level and stands as a living memorial to Rhosine’s dedication, professional involvement, and growth.
